Iteration 1 - Web based system completed, mobile application started with QR code and questionnaire features fully working.

Iteration 2 - The Facebook and Twitter integration is completed on both web system and mobile application.

Iteration 3 - If the Facebook and Twitter features were fully implemented in the last iteration then developer will implement the comment bank on the web based management system.

Week 8 is a contingency week set aside to ensure that as much of the development can be completed as possible to show my solution was valid.
